Rivington Parish Church

By David Owen M.A

RIVINGTON PARISH, lying north of Manchester and on the extreme edge of the diocese, is a place in which pleasure seekers and those who like to drink in the beauties of Nature have always delighted to roam. The earliest reference is a deed of 1280 (Towneley Manuscript M.S. G.G. 1659) Which mentions three acres of terra ecclesiastical in Rivington. According to the Great Inquest of 1212, Alexander Pilkington held his land in Rivington in thaneage, a pre-Conquest form of tenure. (Testa de Neville ii, fo. 826. Record Office, London). Other indications of a Saxon community are the Tithe Barns at Rivington Hall and Great House Farm, and what is believed to be a Saxon Font, found in the locality, and given to the Rev. G.E.Owen by Charles Sixsmith of Anderton, and which is now housed in the Millennium Room at the Church. Some of the window lintels appear to Saxon in origin. Although not mentioned in the Domesday Book the foundation of the church is lost in antiquity but what is certain is that a church, or chapel existed on the site of the present building, long before it was rebuilt in 1541 by the inhabitants, led by the Lord of the Manor, Richard Pilkington. It was consecrated by Bishop Bird of Chester in 1541. It has no patron saint and is not named after any saint or martyr. It has been variously called St. Lawrence, St. George, Holy Trinity, and St. Catherine, but it's correct title is Rivington Church. In 1565 Jacobus Pilkinton (James Pilkington), now Bishop of Durham had started to make plans for a school in Rivington, his home town. The status of the Bishop of Durham was one of the highest ranking in the Church and his influence led to the founding charter of the Rivington Church in 1566. The present north wall is the original wall of the building. When repairs were being carried out to the flooring, a few years ago, the foundations of an earlier building were discovered, possibly Saxon in origin. There are early graves under the wooden floor of the Church, one of whom is Richard Pilkington. The earliest gravestone now in the churchyard is marked 1616. The earliest memorial in the church is dated 1627. In 1628, the joint holders of the Rivington Estate, Thomas Breres and Robert Lever laid claim to the Church and Churchyard of Rivington, so a Petition was sent by Richard Simm, Churchwarden, and other inhabitants to Bishop Bridgeman of Chester, pointing out that long . Before the inquisition of office in 1551, the inhabitants had built the said chapel upon a little toft and quillet of land at their own expense, and had worshipped there for many years of antiquity Bishop Bridgeman recognised the validity of the Petitioner protest, and dismissed the claim of Breres and Lever. Interestingly, Bailey's Dictionary of 1735 defines toft as a messuage or house, or rather, a place where a messuage or house once stood indicating that there had indeed been a building on that site prior to 1551. The building of 1551 was extensively rebuilt in 1666, when a Chancel, a north porch and a south porch were added. In the 16th Century, Rivington was one of the six Chapelries of the Parish of Bolton, the others being Blackrod, Bradshaw, Little Bolton, Little Lever and Turton. Rivington was created a Parish Church in 1856, and they could also select their own Minister, at their own cost, a privilege which only eleven churches in the country possessed. The Rev. Thomas Sutcliffe the first Vicar.

The entries for the first fifteen years are very decayed, the original register surviving as only fragments, almost entirely baptisms; not all years have survived. The entries in the nineteenth century copy have been collated with them in the transcript below, the legible fragments taking precedence in the few cases of difference. There are no BT's until 1721. The register is preceded by Index to Bapt: Reg's: made 01 Nov 1850 , followed by a list of surnames. On the back of the last fragment, dated 1731 , twenty-six numbers are added, with a further 31 and 16, giving a total of 393.)

Press Reports

Bolton Chronicle 6th December 1834 On Monday night a diabolical attempt was made to destroy the ancient Church at Rivington by fire. A man who lives contiguous to the Church had been feeding his horse, and on his return from the stable, he observed an unusual light in the Church. On looking through one of the windows he saw a pile of cushions, prayer books etc. on fire in the aisle. An alarm being given, assistance was quickly procured, and the fire extinguished but not before damage to the amount of £30 had been done. On examination it appeared the incendiary had broken up the Constables staves, and placing the cushions and books on them, set fire to the mass with Lucifer matches.

Bolton Chronicle March 21st 1835 Lancaster Assizes. John Simm 35, charged with willfully setting fire to a Church at Rivington on the night of December 1st last.

The prisoner had no Counsel, He was a person of about middle size with a very sallow complexion and saturnine cast of features, but though supposed to be insane exhibited no symptoms of insanity when placed in the dock, beyond a little wildness of expression in the eyes.

Dr. Brown stated the case for the prosecution and called a number of witnesses from whose testimony it appeared that about half past eleven on the night above mentioned some persons passing by the Parish Church of Rivington observed a great light inside. On going to the window they saw that the place was on fire and having procured the keys and got in, they found that a number of forms, prayer books and other articles had been piled up in the Singers Pew and set on fire. Two of the forms were much burnt and the flames had caught the Body of the pew before they could be extinguished. It was afterwards found that the incendiary had affected an entrance by breaking an iron stanchion which secured the vestry window with a large stone of about fifty pounds weight, which he left behind him in the vestry.

The prisoner was not seen or found in the Church but he came up to the persons in the Churchyard before they had got the keys and said, "Look what a fine blaze it makes." He was taken into custody next morning and acknowledged both then and subsequently, without any promise being made or threat needed, that it was he that had broken into the Church, piled the forms and the books together and set them on fire.

On his apprehension, a box of Lucifer matches, a bit of candle wrapped up in a Hymn book and a printed account of the burning of the two Houses of Parliament was found upon him.

This was the prosecution's case and no evidence being offered by the Prisoner he was acquitted on the grounds of insanity and ordered to be detained for life or until he had regained his sanity.

Bolton Chronicle 28th September 1861: Re-opening of Rivington Church after extensive alterations. New pews have been installed instead of benches and squire pews. A central aisle has been formed with Minton tiles and a new aisle at right angles between the South Porch door and the Vestry room.

The walls have been panelled to a height of five feet. The screen has been restored and the Altar has been raised and placed on a glazed tile base and protected by carved railings. A pretty little organ has been placed on the left of the West door, which is surmounted by the Royal Arms and a porch constructed, jutting inwards.

Chorley Standard 11th November 1865: A report on Rivington Church: The windows are plain 3-light oblongs. The vestry is in the middle of the North side. The East Window is 5 narrow round-headed lights. Walls are wainscoted to the base of the windows, with beautiful Gothic tracery in the panels. This part is new and was put in when the Church was re-pewed in 1862. The reading desk is new with canopy at each end and open work in front. The inscription in the front of the Prayer Book and Bible reads, "Presented to the Chapelry of Rivington in memory of the late Joseph and Mary Ainsworth by their daughters Sarah Emily, Sophia Louise, Gertrude, Mary Agnes, Margaret Laura, and Edith Amy." Above the porch at the western end are the Royal Arms in gilt and at one side of it is a neat little organ. The seats are new and comfortable. Above the entrance to the vestry is a frame with a picture of Bishop Pilkington's father, mother and family.

Chorley Standard 18th November 1865: A continuation of the report on Rivington Church. It describes the two Shaw memorial tablets and then continues ~ "Above the Pulpit is a list of benefactions: Mr. John Shaw gave in 1627 £6 12s 2p annual. Mr. George Shaw gave prior to 1650 £290 0s 0p. George Shaw of Blackburn gave in 1650 £220 0s 0d. Which Chorley Standard 25th November 1865: Continuing the report on Rivington Church: The article describes three tablets on the South wall and the incumbent's board. It then wrongly states that the School was founded in 1666. (It should be 1566) It then describes the School as Elizabethan in style with four plain 3—light windows on each side with a door in the North side and a staircase in the South side. There are three masters, Mr. Tebay, Mr. Wilding and Mr. Holdsworth, Writing Master. The homes for the Usher and Writing Master were built in 1789 out of surplus funds, [Note; A letter from a correspondent regarding the article on Rivington Church mentions John Shaw who is buried near his plaque, and continues,]"and some time afterwards the Roman memorial cross which stood on his land was removed to the spot, in all probability by his own wish. What has happened to this beautiful and ancient memorial?" (A letter in reply to the above) "With regard to the stone memorial cross which was found on the spot covered with earth, and which of course must be merged into the freehold of the Church and become Church property, after the discovery of this it was placed on, and in the centre of the chancel screen, giving the interior a solemn and graphic effect. It was taken down ten or twelve years ago and either given, sold or battered away by the last named incumbent. Your correspondent was under no mistake about this ancient monument for, I am informed, it is still preserved at Wallsuches or Ridgmont in the township of Horwich . The corona or crown is also preserved, being affixed above the entrance to the Roman Catholic Chapel at Euxton. These two specimens of Roman Art having fallen into careful hands will, I have no doubt be restored upon candid application. The pedestal upon which the cross probably stood has remained until very recently, when one of the farm tenants on the property roused the stone from it's bed and broke it in pieces, whether from convenience, profit or prejudice I have not been able to ascertain.²⁰¹

Bolton Free Press 27th March 1843 A report of a burglary at Rivington Church in which the Church chest was emptied and a box that was chained to the chest had been wrenched away and taken out of the Church. The box was found in a field a considerable distance away where the end was forced out and the box was ransacked.

The Charter of Foundation of the School was taken, part of the Seal has been found. A reward of £5 is offered.

Bolton Chronicle 5th November 1859 Investigation into Local Charities, Broadhurst Charity Bennett Anderton read the will of John Broadhurst dated 22nd June 1681 by which he bequeathed an amount of £50, one half to the poor of Rivington and one half to the use of Rivington Church , and further gave the interest of £5 for a sound, orthodox minister at Rivington and the interest on a further £5 to the poor.

It appeared that the sum of £30, one moiety of this charity, in the trust of Thomas Anderton and Mr. Bennett Anderton of Rivington has been secured in Government 3 per cent Consols in the name of and in the account of the Trustees of the Charities and that the interest of this sum is distributed yearly on November 5th by the Rivington Trustees to the industrious poor.

The other Moiety of 230 appears to have been laid out nearly a century ago towards the erection of the Parsonage House together with a sum of money left by will for the keeping in repair of the Church roof.

An Inquiry had determined that it was an old debt incurred 80 years ago and was considered as lost.

This is a Rent Charge of 6s 8d which has not been paid since 1843. Mr. Howard, the present tenant recognised the claim and it would be paid in full. It was usually added to the Shaw Charity.

The Charter 1566

Royal grant reads as follows : —" And forasmuch as the aforesaid Parish of Bolton is a very large and great parish, and not only the said village or hamlet of Rovington alias Rivington, but also divers other villages and hamlets of Anlezargh, Hemshaw, and Foulds being within the same parish, and part of the same, are six miles distant and more from the parish of Bolton aforesaid, as we are informed by creditable men. And forasmuch also —as the inhabitants of the said villages or hamlets of Rovington Anlezargh, Hemshaw, and Foulds being in number with their children and servants, 500 at the least (as in the manner we are informed), have built and set up long ago, at their own great cost and charges, a chapel in Rovington alias Rivington, to celebrate the Sacraments and Sacramental in the said chapel, for their commodity and ease, that they should not be compelled in the winter, or other unseasonable times, to carry their dead and children to be buried and baptised in the Parish Church of Bolton ; or at other times to wander far to solemnize marriage, or to receive the Lord's Supper. Ye shall no further. That we, for the Glory of God and increase of His Honour, extending the affection of our liberality to the commodity and quietness of the inhabitants and dwellers of the village or hamlet of Rovington alias Rivington, Anlezargh, Hemshaw, and Foulds aforesaid, of our further special favour, and sure knowledge, and meer motion, will, and by these presents for us, our heirs and successors, grant to the aforesaid, now Governors of the possessions, revenues, and goods of the said Free Grammar School of Queen Elizabeth, in Rovington or Rivington, in the County of Lancaster, and to their successors: That from this time henceforth, and from time to time, there be and shall be for ever, within the chapel afore- said, sacraments, and sacramental celebrated, and other divine service used, and also baptism of children, solemnization of marriages, burial of the dead within the aforesaid chapel in every construction and purpose as they be done, used, and executed within the aforesaid Parish Church of Bolton, or ought to be done hereafter by any lawful minister, and that hereafter the people that now be, and shall at any time hereafter be dwellers and remainders within the villages and ham-lets of Rovinton alias Rivington, Anlezargh, Hemshaw, and Foulds aforesaid, at their proper cost and charges, shall find, and cause to be found, from time to time for ever, one discreet, learned, and meet Chaplain or Minister to serve within the said Chapel, as also to administer the Sacraments and Sacramental there unto the said inhabitants and dwellers for the time being, and for to do and execute all and singular other things there that belong, and are known to belong, to the office of parson of the Parish Church of Bolton, or of any other parish churches of this our realm of England, as fully, perfectly, and in such like manner and form as any other Parson, Curate, or Minister, having charge of souls within any other Parish Church, ought to do. And that it may be well, and shall be lawful to the said Chaplain or Minister to bury within the Chapel or Chapel yard aforesaid the bodies of all them that die within the village and hamlets of Rovinton alias Rivington, Anlezargh, Hemshaw, and Foulds, or any of them, and that the aforesaid Chaplain or Ministers for the time being shall take charge of souls there, and do divine service there, and also minister Sacraments and Sacramental, and shall take in hand and bear the other burdens that belong to the Curate of the said Chapelry in all thing's, as by law and custom of the Church of England ought to be done. And, furthermore, we will that all and every of the inhabitants dwelling and abiding within the said villages and hamlets of Rovinton or Rivington, Anlezargh, Hemshaw, and Foulds, and within everyone of them may and shall come freely without let from time to time for ever, as well every festival day or other days and times, whatsoever be appointed for prayers, and other divine service within the aforesaid chapel to be had done ; and also at all other times in which divine service, prayers, celebration of the Lord's Supper, or other divine service, shall be had, done, or ministered in the chapel aforesaid, and there to have divine service ; also to pray and receive the Holy Communion, and to do all other things in such like manner and form to all intents and purposes as they shall do, or ought to have done, within the aforesaid Parish Church of Bolton, or to any other church or chapel to hear divine service, or to receive the Sacraments or Sacramental, or to bury the dead, or to solemnize marriage, hut only to the chapel aforesaid. And, furthermore, we will and by these presents grant for us, our heirs, and successors to the aforesaid governors and their successors, that the inhabitants of the aforesaid villages and hamlets of Rovinton alias Rivington, Anlezargh, Hemshaw, and Foulds for the time being, may have, hold, use, and enjoy within the aforesaid Church of Rovinton or Rivington, and churchyard to the same adjoining, the aforesaid liberties, from time to time quietly, in manner and form aforesaid, without giving, paying, or doing anything for the same, to us, our heirs or successors, by any manner of ways. And, furthermore, of our further gracious favour, we will, and grant by these presents for us, our heirs and. successors, that neither the present grant, nor anything contained shall in any wise extend to discharge the inhabitants and dwellers of the aforesaid, or hamlets of Rovington, Anlezargh, Hemshaw, and Foulds, or any of them. or any manner of their tithes or dilations. But that they shall pay and give all their tithes and offerings whatever yearly, and from time to time. to the Parson of the said Parsonage, and Vicar of the Perpetual Vicarage of Bolton from time to time, being after the same manner and fashion as they have hereto been accustomedly paid, and given, and ought or should be given or paid. if this our grant had not been made, anything to the contrary thereof, notwithstanding ; and furthermore, we will that the inhabitants of the aforesaid villages and hamlets of Rovington or Rivington, Anlezargh, Hemshaw, and Foulds, or one or more of them shall not be compelled to further burdens by the Parson of the Parsonage, or Vicar of the said perpetual Vicarage of Bolton for the time being or of the parish of Bolton aforesaid, but only for the payment of their tithes and offerings in manner and form aforesaid, provided always that neither the present grant nor anything therein contained, shall in anywise extend to burthen us, our heirs, and successors with maintaining and finding or any Chaplain or Minister within the aforesaid chapel. We will also, and by these presents so grant to the aforesaid Governors of the school aforesaid, that they may and shall have their own Letters Patent under the Great Seal of England in due manner to be made and sealed, without any line or fee, much or little, to be paid, given, or done therefore to us in our Hanaper, or otherwise, for our use by any means. Because no express mention is made in these presents of the yearly value, or of the certainty of the revenues or any of them, or of the gifts or grants by us, or any of our progenitors or predecessors to the said now governors of the aforesaid school, before this time and ordinances, act, provision, proclamation, restraint to the contrary heretofore, had, made, set forth, ordained, or provided, or any other thing, cause, or matter whatever in anywise notwithstanding. In witness whereof we have caused these our letters to be made patent. Witness ourself. at Westminster, the thirteenth day of May, on eight, [in the eighth] year of our Reign, Annoque Domini 1566. In memory

Lancashire Telegraph, 10 May 2013, Jessica Bell, Health reporter David Owen, who spent years researching the history of Rivington, Westhoughton and Horwich, died in September, aged 83. Horwich Heritage has dedicated its next open day to Mr Owen and will exhibit work from his extensive research, including the Lost Farms of Rivington and Anglezarke, one of the many subjects on which he was an authority, with other material from his local research. On Saturday, May 18, between 10am and noon, Horwich Heritage Centre, in Beaumont Road, will be transformed. David Clayton, the former head of history at Burnley Grammar School, will speak about Mr Owen's extensive research into the lost farms. Westhoughton Local History Group will pay its own tribute to the historian and his mining expertise, by launching its new book on The Coal Mines of Westhoughton at the event. Mr Owen grew up in Rivington as the son of the Rivington Church minister and attended Rivington and Blackrod Grammar School. He studied Rivington's past including its families, farms, datestones, churches, myths and legends, and much of his work has been turned into publications, available from Horwich Heritage Centre. After marrying wife Betty, with whom he had four children, Mr Owen moved to Westhoughton and began researching that area, later becoming vice-chairman of Westhoughton Local History Group. His working life was spent as a mining engineer, and Mr Owen published material, exhibitions and gave talks about the history of mining. His specialist knowledge was particularly useful when he helped research and commemorate the Pretoria Pit Disaster centenary in 2010. The group's secretary Pam Clarke said: "He was an esteemed mentor and advisor to our group and will be remembered with gratitude and affection. He achieved many things in a very fulfilling life and we will miss his sharp wit, sense of humour and endless fund of anecdotes and stories." Horwich Heritage chairman, Stuart Whittle, said: "We felt it was entirely fitting that David's life and major contribution to local history should be commemorated in this way and we hope as many people as possible from Horwich, Rivington and Westhoughton will join us on the day."
